Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 7-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Applicants' claim is confusing as to intent because the term "like", when appended to an otherwise definite expression, so extends the scope of the expression as to render it objectionably indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Merriman et al.(3,300,421).

Merriman et al. discloses resilient composite materials which may be prepared by mixing rubber fragment materials, polyurethane fragment materials, and synthetic resin spherical microballoons (see column 1 in its entirety, column 2 lines 40-67, column 3 in its entirety, column 4 lines 1-25, example 7, and the claims, as well as, the entire document). Merriman et al.'s full disclosure contemplates mixtures and combinations of mixed crumb material such that the ranges of values of applicants' claims are held to be readily envisioned by the teachings of Merriman et al. Mixing of the fragmented and microballoon materials as provided for by Merriman et al. through the action of an extruder apparatus along with the action of heating so as to expediently provide the compounded composition, though not specifically set forth as the required mixing apparatus, is an embodiment readily envisioned by the teachings Merriman et al. and patentability based on these elements of the claims is not seen.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Croft (5,621,043) and Mertz et al.(6,384,145) are cited for their disclosures of relevant disclosures in the art.
